

AVENO Cod.1503

AVENO welcomes with a tactile richness that feels immediate and familiar. A vertical chevron weave forms a braided, cord-like relief, softly sculpted and rhythmic, catching light as it moves across the fabric and bringing depth through its raised structure.

Made from pure, yarn-dyed cotton, AVENO has a full hand that feels comforting and generous. The relief construction gives the fabric character and definition, while its natural drape and reassuring weight make it well suited to draperies and heavier curtains, as well as throws, bed covers, cushions, upholstery, and interior accessories.

The palette is composed of five timeless tones. A soft cotton white carries a clean, natural warmth. A warm beige reflects an honest, grounded nature. A muted sienna clay introduces earthy red richness.

The green balances cedar depth with gentle aloe nuances. A limestone gray, expressed through a mélange yarn, introduces subtle variation and stone-like nuance.

AVENO brings comfort and natural ease, designed to sit effortlessly and feel at home.
