

JARVIS Cod.1903

JARVIS is an upholstery fabric woven from pure wool, spun in Tuscany. Its structure is defined by a compact, small-scale check that emerges from a tight interplay of yarns, creating a weave that is richly textured and visually rhythmic. The weave structure reveals a distinctive grid of raised and recessed elements, giving the fabric a highly material hand and a composed sense of movement.

Durable by nature and generous in character, JARVIS offers long-lasting resistance while maintaining a lively yet sophisticated presence. Each color expresses a distinct identity: bright, sunlit tones such as warm yellow, burnt orange and ivory with blue-grey accents; deeper hues of forest green, blue, brown and black; and a family of natural neutrals. A palette that is rich, layered and full of personality. The design draws inspiration from a retro weave archetype, reinterpreted through updated interlacings. This contemporary approach enhances depth and clarity, giving the check a vibrant relief and a crafted sensibility. The result is a textile that feels both graphic and warm, material yet refined. Conceived to become a focal point in an interior, JARVIS is ideal for armchairs, sofas and seating, as well as cushions that naturally take center stage. A fabric with presence and longevity, rooted in classic spirit but expressed through a fresh, modern lens.
