

DALMA Cod.3977

Defined by a relaxed washed finish and generous width, DALMA falls in soft, generous folds while preserving the character of the yarn. Woven in pure linen, it has a gentle, voluminous hand with the natural tactility of flax.

The palette unfolds through eight yarn-dyed tones inspired by botanical references. Pale white and warm sand set a neutral foundation. Soft blush, straw yellow, and muted clays introduce warmth, and pale blue-green notes introduce gentle contrast across the range.

DALMA presents linen in its most natural expression, shaped for interiors that value simplicity and lasting comfort.

The fabric carries the breathable, moisture-regulating qualities inherent to linen, supporting comfort and durability while retaining a generous drape. Its wide width and natural fall make it well suited to curtains, wide draperies, and decorative interior applications where comfort, volume, and natural materials and colors are essential.
